Rae Andreacchio vs Karen Yax case update:

Rae's attorney, Matt, and Karen were ordered to have a phone call by 8/6 (yesterday). Karen says the court in MS doesn't have jurisdiction over her. Pretty sure the courts make that decision yet she still has not filed anything regarding jurisdiction.

Karen is also claiming to be afraid of Matt. Like physically afraid to speak with him over the phone as ordered by the judge.

RE: Andreacchio v. Yax

Ms. Yax:

This correspondence is in response to your August 3, 2021, email.

Rule 26(f) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure -- (note, these are the FEDERAL rules; not the Mississippi rules) -- states as follows:

(f) Conference of the Parties; Planning for Discovery.

(1) Conference Timing. Except in a proceeding exempted from initial disclosure under Rule 26(a)(1)(B) or when the court orders otherwise, the parties must confer as soon as practicable -- and in any event at least 21 days before a scheduling conference is to be held or a scheduling order is due under Rule 16(b).

Pursuant to the Court's Rule 16 Initial Order, the Rule 26(f) Conference has been scheduled for August 27, 2021. Ergo, 21 days before this date is August 6, 2021. Therefore, pursuant to the Court's Order and the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, we must confer on or before August 6 -- this Friday.

At this August 6 (or sooner) meeting, you and I will discuss the standard scheduling order to see if we can agree upon certain discovery parameters. If we cannot reach consensus, that's fine; the Court will decide these issues for us at the Rule 26(f) conference. However, we must confer at least 21 days in advance of the hearing. This way we are not wasting the Court's time at the hearing.

With respect, I cannot see how talking with me over the phone would make you feel "unsafe" considering that your residence in Michigan is nearly 900 miles from my location in Mississippi. (Do you really believe that I will reach my hands through the telephone to inflict upon you some sort of physical calamity? If you truly believe that, then I am sincerely flattered that you think so highly of my capabilities.)

But I digress. The reality, Ms. Yax, is that you are simply making excuses – and silly ones at that.

Therefore, in good faith, I am giving you one more chance to give me a day and time this week when we can discuss the boundaries of discovery. Is Wednesday, Thursday, or Friday good for you? I am free all three days.

If you refuse to cooperate with my request, then I will simply prepare the Scheduling Order to the advantage of my client and submit the same to the Court. Then when we chat with the Judge on August 27, you can explain how your irrational fear of me (and telephones) was valid cause to disregard the Court's rules and order.

I will also file an appropriate motion alerting the Court how you believe its rules are "irrelevant" to you.

We are not playing games, Ms. Yax.

Govern yourself accordingly.

Does she think she is above the law?

Her reply to him is something you would send someone in a FB message, not a professional in the judicial system.

Pretty comical that she has chosen to represent herself with not a shred of ability and people listen to her like

Legal question - is it illegal to attempt to hide assets to decrease net worth in order to reduce the amount of a monetary judgement?

My ex tried to hide assets and can cash in a safe deposit box. Idk about legality with your situation but if it is land, equipment, or physical assets that can be traced.. it is not legal and they can get in trouble. I had a list of his assets so he couldn't hide much.

I just received word from Rae that apologies and promises by themselves will not be enough.

So, unless you can make us a better offer, we will have to go to court for the settlement conference on a date the three of us choose. (Please give us your dates.)

You claim financial lack. If that is truly the case, we'd like to see your bank statements and tax returns.

Or if you have information, that, too, could be a substitute for money.

Either way, just make us a better offer.

With that said, my client may be amenable to accepting information in your possession as an offset to any financial demand we might otherwise have.

For example, Rae just reminded me that you had said to Chris that you had information that would blow the investigation into Christian's death wide open. Rae also reminded me that you told Chris that you had been paid to "represent" Dylan and Whitley.

So, if you have recorded conversations, voicemails, emails, text messages, Facebook messages, check stubs, receipts, evidence of payment etc.— basically any record of any communication of any kind or character — with:

Dylan Swearingen,
Whitley Goodman,
Jett Miller,
Matt Miller... or any friend or relative of these parties (including, but not limited to Frankie Wagner or Kelly Harper) ... or any other person who has knowledge or a personal interest into what trade authenticated copies of these

Also any offer by you would need to have a commitment to make a public and private apology ... plus a commitment to never to speak of this case —or any of Christian's family — ever again on any social media platform or other public forum.

This is a message I have been instructed to deliver from my client. I am quoting Rae word-for-word:

"Ms. Yax due to your dishonest approach in these settlement negotiations and your dishonest and disrespectful communications to the court through motions and filings I am instructing my representative to withdraw all settlement offers and stop negotiations. I will leave it to a jury to determine the judgement your actions deserve. Not what you can 'afford' but what you deserve.

"At that time I will hire an attorney in Michigan and have the ruling of the federal court in MS certified by a federal court in Michigan and I will vigorously pursue collecting every dime of that judgement. At this point, the only thing that needs to be accomplished is setting a date and time for a settlement conference per the

I will make myself available at a time agreed upon by you and Mr. Wilson. I do not have high hopes the conference will be fruitful but I will make my validated concerns known to the court at that time."
